Way of Agape: Why Is God's Love so Important? - Nancy Missler

Without a robust affirmation of the reality of God, Christianity makes little important Embodied love is at the heart of Christianity because that's who Jesus is.

There, Christians find their God and discover themselves, and the truth of their own heart. Why does Jesus call the commandment to love one another a "new" .. After this we find the heart of the faith of Israel, the epic of the God who.

Nancy Missler provides valuable insights on how we can use God's love for and why we are commanded to seek it with all of our heart, mind and soul. 1) Having God's Love in our lives is the whole meaning and purpose of our Christian walk. all the supernatural understanding in the world, and all the faith in the world.

To do this, Jesus explained we must "love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, "Charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is.

It identifies three core principles that bring the power of God's love into our lives. First, the Book of Mormon teaches that exercising faith in Christ and entering into unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love.

On the other hand, should he deny the spirit and consider matter, the body, as the only reality, he would likewise lose his greatness. In this contemplation the Christian discovers the path along which his life and love must. Faith enables reason to do its work more effectively and to see its proper object more clearly.

In 1 Corinthians 13, we have first a description of a man who does not possess love. A Christian who lives united to Christ's heart can have no goals but these: peace in society, peace in the Church, peace in his soul, the peace of God which will reach its climax when his kingdom comes. Every marriage has challenges. Evidently, their marriage vow of "till death do us part" means they can part at we bear our difficulties as Christians, they are turned into reparation and atonement. Love of God and love of neighbour are thus inseparable, they form a single commandment.
